

Bérengère Parmly

Ethics & Compliance Officer, Bechtel Limited

Bérengère is a French-American lawyer specializing in anti-bribery compliance. She trained at one of the preeminent law firms in the field in Washington DC, specializing in internal investigations, due diligence and the design of bespoke compliance programs, and worked on pro-bono advisory project with Revenue Watch. She was the compliance officer for a major US mining investment in central Africa, where she built and implemented tailored business integrity systems, then trained a local counsel to replace her when she became the company's legal department coordinator. She is now the ethics & compliance officer for a major international engineering and construction company, supervising their infrastructure projects worldwide.