

2008-2012

Hogan Lovells provides pro bono legal advice, secondments and volunteers to the BPA across a number of areas in the build-up to the Beijing Paralympic Games and throughout the next four year cycle culminating in the London Paralympic Games.

September 2013

Hogan Lovells formalises its relationship with the BPA by becoming their Official Legal Services provider.

“

We are very proud of the work we have done. We have a long-standing track record as a firm for promoting the rights of the disabled in all walks of life and for that to be recognised through our role as an official partner of the BPA is very rewarding.

Nicholas Cheffings, Chair, Hogan Lovells

”

June 2015

Paralympic Swimmer, Ollie Hynd, becomes Hogan Lovells ParalympicsGB Ambassador.

“

Having the backing of a global firm with a long history of supporting the BPA is a huge boost to my Rio 2016 campaign. It's great to know I have personal and practical support from everyone at Hogan Lovells and I'm looking forward to working with them.

Ollie Hynd, Paralympic Swimmer

”

September 2015

Hogan Lovells takes on the International Wheelchair Rugby Federation, and Great Britain Wheelchair Rugby as pro bono clients of the firm.

May 2016

Hogan Lovells welcome elite para-athlete, and world champion, Sophie Hahn on an athlete scholarship, the first ever to be offered by the firm.

Sophie spends time at Hogan Lovells benefitting from a bespoke programme of training and mentoring designed to help her build relationships, networks, confidence and her personal brand. This includes training on social and traditional media, and personal impact training, based on Hogan Lovells' award winning internal people development programmes.

November 2016

Hogan Lovells renews its partnership with the BPA until Tokyo 2020.

May 2017

Hogan Lovells launches their ParalympicsGB Bursary, to support Para-athletes with financial support, such as for equipment, and non-financial support, including media training.