On September 30, 2018, Canada, Mexico, and the U.S. announced that they had reached an agreement on the new NAFTA: the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA). Like NAFTA, the USMCA includes an investment chapter – Chapter 14. This chapter drastically differs from NAFTA in several aspects bringing a new era in investment arbitration.