

LNG Exports - A Rare Case of Policy Continuity From Obama to Trump

08 May 2017

Energy Alert

Whether healthcare, climate change, taxes, or general international trade, it is hard to identify an area of policy in the United States that is not experiencing dramatic changes in the transition from President Obama to President Trump. LNG export policy is the clear exception. The Obama Administration put in place a set of policies and procedures and developed a strong factual record to support LNG exports. There is convincing evidence that the policies favoring LNG exports are continuing unchanged in any material way in the Trump Administration.

Read More: LNG Exports - A Rare Case of Policy Continuity From Obama to Trump

Contacts

Mary Anne
Sullivan

Senior Counsel

> Read the full article online