

Kimberly D. Rancour

Senior Associate
Washington, D.C.

Biography

A seasoned litigator, Kim Rancour has experience representing clients in state and federal courts all over the country. Her practice focuses on antitrust and commercial litigation. She has represented clients in a variety of industries, including health care, financial services, pharmaceuticals, and defense.

Kim has experience at every stage of the litigation process and has represented clients at trial, in arbitration, and in evidentiary hearings. Most recently, Kim was a key member of the trial team in FTC, et al. v. Advocate Health Care Corporation, et al. – a case brought by the Federal Trade Commission to block the merger of two hospital systems in Chicago. Kim also maintains an active pro bono practice and recently completed an 11-day trial in D.C. Superior Court, in which she successfully served as lead trial counsel for the plaintiff in a custody dispute.

During law school, Kim was an editor for the Cornell Law Review and the Vice Chancellor of the Cornell Moot Court Board. Before joining Hogan Lovells in 2015, Kim was an associate in the Washington, D.C. office of a major international law firm.
