

Caroline Covington

Associate
Baltimore

Biography

Caroline Covington advises clients on the full spectrum of dispute resolution options, from litigation to arbitration and mediation.

As an active participant in pro bono efforts, Caroline has represented clients in civil protective order cases and assisted incarcerated women at the Maryland Correctional Institution for Women as part of Maryland Law's Gender Violence Clinic.

Prior to joining Hogan Lovells, Caroline spent time interning at the Securities and Exchange Commission and as an intellectual property litigation assistant for another leading law firm. While in school, she served as the Managing Editor for the Maryland Law Review and received the prestigious William P. Cunningham Award for achievement and service.
