

Dr. Ina Bruns

Associate
Hamburg

Biography

Ina Bruns provides comprehensive advice in the area of data protection and IT law. Her practice focuses on advising national and international clients on data privacy issues, in particular on the implementation of the European General Data Protection Regulation in companies and other data protection compliance issues. This includes, for example, the drafting of data processing agreements and privacy policies. Furthermore, she advises her clients in drafting and negotiating contracts in the field of IT law.

Ina advises her clients on issues of European and national data privacy law, including data processing agreements, privacy policies, records of processing activities, website compliance and legal issues in the field of online marketing. Another focus of her work is advising on digital health products from a data protection perspective. Ina also advises on IT law issues, such as the drafting and negotiation of software and project contracts.

Ina studied law in Osnabrück and Münster with a focus on media law and worked at the Institute for Information, Telecommunication and Media Law at the University of Münster for several years. During her legal clerkship she worked for a large commercial law firm in London.
