

Tax Valuation

Valuations are increasingly important in the tax world. Key to many tax positions. Key to TP analyses. Key to assessing potential value and risk, whether in the context of restructurings or acquisitions. With the value of intangibles reaching new heights, the valuation exercise is becoming more complex. It's harder than ever to define intangibles and their contribution to the value chain.

With great value comes great risk. Whether your business is looking to support a position, assess its tax/TP risk, or planning to achieve better efficiencies, our experienced valuation team can help.

Our valuation, legal, tax, and TP knowledge, combined with our hands-on industry insight, will give you a fully customized solution that achieves results and minimizes risk.
