

Australia warns against ICOs

9 May 2018

The Australian Securities & Investments Commission (ASIC) has warned the public against initial coin offerings.

ASIC has released an investment warning about ICOs, calling them "high-risk speculative investments" and warning investors that they may lose some or all their money if a project fails.

Click here to read more.

> Read the full article online