

The EU Leniency Program

January 2019

CPI Antitrust Chronicle

To file, or not to file: giving the right answer in the right moment to this crucial question, can, at least at first sight, save a company a significant amount of money.

The overall purpose of leniency programs is to create a sufficient level of incentives for companies involved in cartel activity to blow the whistle on an alleged cartel and to fully cooperate with the authorities to uncover and sanction the cartel.

Antitrust lawyers Christian Ritz and Dr. Lorenz Marx explain the trends and challenges of the European Leniency Program in the January issue of the CPI Antitrust Chronicle:
