

Akima Paul Lambert

Partner

London

Biography

Akima Paul Lambert focuses on high-stakes commercial litigation and arbitration. She often works with clients on large, multijurisdictional disputes. She has experience in commercial and investment treaty arbitration, and is dual-qualified in the UK and in the U.S.

Akima has significant experience acting for financial institutions, corporations and professional firms in litigation and arbitration proceedings arising out of commercial, banking and financial disputes.

According to Benchmark Litigation Europe (2020), Akima is "professional, brilliant and dedicated to the task," and "a very responsive and diligent lawyer" who is "very capable of handling complex matters and always delivers what she promises." She has also been listed as an EMpower Ethnic Minority Future Leader Role Model 2020 which recognises worldwide future senior leaders who are making a significant contribution to ethnic minority inclusion at work.

Akima is significantly involved in pro bono and has worked on and co-ordinated a range of pro bono matters in relation to international economic development and human rights.

Akima spearheaded the creation of the firm's Caribbean Desk, which advises clients on transactions, projects and disputes throughout the region. The

Phone

+44 20 7296 5271

Fax

+44 20 7296 2001

Email

akima.paullambert@hoganlovells.com

Practices

Banking and Finance Litigation

Commercial Litigation

Insolvency Litigation

Corporate and Securities Litigation

Caribbean Desk

Industries

Financial Institutions

Insurance

Consumer

Life Sciences and Health Care

Areas of focus

Product Litigation

Caribbean Desk is comprised of lawyers from across our network, including our London, Washington D.C., New York and Miami offices.

Representative experience

Acting for a device manufacturer defending product liability claims.

Assisting with responses to product safety queries into a global company's processes.

Assisting with the defense of an international tobacco group in various jurisdictions including managing a large scale outsourced disclosure exercise.

Successfully securing €36 million judgment for a bank in connection with an Italian region's dispute of specific derivative transactions.*

Advised a Middle Eastern financial institution on a range of matters, including successfully challenging the jurisdiction of the English courts.*

Advised The Center for Reproductive Rights in securing UN recommendations to overturn El Salvador's criminalization of abortion.*

Represented BAT Industries in proceedings arising from the $1 billion clean-up of the Fox River in the U.S., including proceedings brought by BAT in the High Court.*

*Matter handled prior to joining Hogan Lovells.

Awards and rankings

- Rising Star, Legal 500, 2020
- Recommended, Benchmark Litigation Europe, 2020
- Ethnic Minority Future Leader Role Model, EMpower, 2020

Latest thinking and events

- Hogan Lovells Events
 - Spotlight on the Caribbean
- Awards and Rankings

Education and admissions

Education

LL.M., London School of Economics, 2018

LPC, BPP Law School, 2006

Maîtrise en Droit, Université Paris II Panthéon-Assas, 2005

M.A. (Hons), University of Cambridge, 2005

Bar admissions and qualifications

New York

Solicitor, England and Wales

- Akima Paul Lambert featured in The Lawyer's Hot 100 list
- Webinar
 - EMEA Leadership Talks - Shaping the Future
- Awards and Rankings
 - Akima Paul Lambert selected as a winner in the Black British Business Awards 2021
- Insights
 - Amendments to the disclosure pilot are cleared for take-off