

Joost Duijm

Associate

Amsterdam

Biography

Joost is a member of Hogan Lovells' Intellectual Property, Media and Technology Practice Group. He provides clients with advice and represents clients in litigation proceedings, in all areas of technology.

Joost graduated from the University of Tilburg in 2016 where he obtained an LL.M. in Law and Technology, with a particular focus in IT law, Contract law, and Intellectual Property Law. He wrote his thesis on patent regulation and litigation regarding biosimilar pharmaceuticals.

Before joining Hogan Lovells, among other things, Joost served as a paralegal at a specialized European IP law boutique and he worked in a multidisciplinary team of student employees, helping out entrepreneurs and organizations with legal (IP/IT) issues.

Joost was admitted to the bar in 2017.

Latest thinking and events

- Blog Post
 - Pharmacy compounding of patented medicines in the Netherlands

Phone

+31 20 55 33 745

Fax

+31 20 55 33 777

Email

joost.duijm@hoganlovells.com

Languages

Dutch
English

Practices

Complex Contracting
Intellectual Property
IT Law
Trade Secrets and Confidential
Know-how Patents

Industries

Energy and Natural Resources

Life Sciences and Health Care

TMT

Areas of focus

Data Protection

IP Licensing, Commercialization,
and Technology Transfer

IP Litigation, Arbitration, and Alternative Dispute Resolution

IP Rights in Transactions

Technology Contracts

Tech Litigation

Education and admissions

Education

Master of Laws, University of Tilburg, 2016

Bachelor of Laws, University of Tilburg, 2014

Memberships

Association Internationale pour la
Protection de la Propriété
Intellectuelle (AIPPI)

Dutch Bar Association (Nederlandse Orde van Advocaten)

Bar admissions and qualifications

Amsterdam

Court admissions

Courts of Appeal, the Netherlands

District Courts, the Netherlands

Accolades

"The team is known for its well regarded international outfit offering clients expertise in life science patents issues. Noted for its experience in litigation, trade mark matters and knowledge of the technology industry."

Chambers Europe
