

Dealing with Insurance Regulators

Our extensive experience dealing with insurance regulators in many jurisdictions and across multiple sectors gives our clients the ability to manage regulatory relationships in a constructive, timely, and coordinated way.

From advising on consent and notification requirements, seeking guidance, waivers, and regulatory forbearance to keep you compliant, to helping you manage breach reporting, investigations, and remediation if things go wrong, Hogan Lovells gives valuable insight into how to get the most out of your contact with those that regulate you.

Representative experience

Advised the Association of Mutual Insurers (and predecessor organizations) on Project Chrysalis in relation to the regulation of life assurance mutuals.

Advised AXA on various legal and regulatory aspects of conducting insurance activity and managing pension funds in Poland.

Advised United Health Group on legal and regulatory requirements in relation to its insurance business activities in Hong Kong.

Advised Zurich Global Corporate on regulatory and policy wording aspects of its environmental insurance cover in seven different Latin American jurisdictions.

Contacts

Tim Goggin,
London

Practices

Insurance

Latest thinking and events

Hogan Lovells Publications

Changes in insurance regulation: Mainland China/Hong Kong/Singapore/Indonesia

Insurance Alert

Publications

Proposed changes to the law on data breach notifications in Australia

Hogan Lovells Publications

Hong Kong and Singapore Financial Services Regulators Move on Cyber Security

IP Alert

Hogan Lovells Publications

Brexit Effect Note: the legal Implications behind the headlines