

Safa Osmani

Associate

Boston

Biography

Safa Osmani draws on her experience clerking for judges to advise her clients in litigation, white collar criminal defense, government investigations, and fraud. She handles cases across a range of industries, including health care, financial services, pharmaceuticals, medical devices, and education.

Before joining the firm, Safa clerked for the Honorable Douglas P. Woodlock of the U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts and the Honorable Francis X. Flaherty of the Rhode Island Supreme Court. She also served as a judicial intern to the Honorable Stephen M. Limon of the Suffolk County Juvenile Court.

Safa graduated in the top one percent of her law school class and received the Public Citizenship Award. While in law school, she held numerous leadership positions, including president and vice president of the Muslim Law Students Association, secretary of the South Asian Law Students Association, and senior managing editor of the Suffolk University Law Review. She also participated in the Marshall-Brennan Constitutional Literacy Project, teaching high school students constitutional law and oral advocacy skills.
