

Back to basics: what to do when you receive a break notice

14 August 2019

Keeping It Real Estate

In the current climate, all types of occupiers including occupiers of retail, office and warehouse space, will be considering their leasing requirements and looking to rationalise their property portfolios. As a result, landlords may find that they are seeing an increase in the number of tenants seeking to operate break rights in leases.

Click here to read the full article.

Contacts

Benjamin Willis

Senior
Associate

> Read the full article online