

Trade and Export Finance

As the global economy continues to improve, and funding becomes more readily available from commercial banks, investments into the emerging markets are growing. These commodity rich regions such as Africa, Central and Eastern Europe, Asia, and Latin America require debt financing in order to trade.

Our market leading team advises both lenders and borrowers — acting for banks, commodities traders, multilateral institutions, multilateral financial institutions and development banks, export credit agencies (ECAs), and governments. And they offer trade finance capabilities that few competitors can match.

We design documentation and structures to work for you.

Representative experience

Advised Société Générale on US$155m pre-export finance facility to support Trans-Oil group's commodities purchases (principally of Moldovan origin), storage, and processing for sale to export markets.

Advised African Export Import Bank on US$680m reserve base lending facility to Eroton to fund acquisition of onshore oil and gas extraction licence in Nigeria.

Advised International Finance Corporation in relation to its ongoing Global Trade Liquidity Programme (GTLP) and Critical Commodities Finance Programme (CCFP) initiatives.
