

The U.S.-Mexico-Canada Agreement: the new gold standard to enforce investment treaty protection?

13 January 2020

Columbia FDI Perspectives No. 269

In the current investment arbitration crisis, the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA) presents a unique solution. Governments concerned with regulatory chill should adopt the USMCA model if they want to reduce the risk of ISDS claims related to the regulation of health, national security, morals, and the environment.

Read More: The U.S.-Mexico-Canada Agreement: the new gold standard to enforce investment treaty protection?

Contacts

Orlando F.
Cabrera C.

Senior Associate

> Read the full article online