

Christine A. Sifferman

Associate

Washington, D.C.

Biography

Christine A. Sifferman represents her clients in complex litigation, with an emphasis on class action and antitrust claims. She has a particular focus on life sciences companies and financial institutions. She began her career at Hogan Lovells as a summer associate in 2016.

While in law school, she served as the Senior Developments Editor for the NYU Journal of International Law and Politics. During the summer after her first year of law school, Christine worked at a women's rights nonprofit in the Middle East.

Christine has a vibrant pro bono practice centered around immigration and refugees. While in law school, she served as a student advocate for the International Refugee Assistance Project, working with a client from Afghanistan who was a translator for the U.S. military. He and his family were successfully resettled in early 2017. Christine has taken on a variety of immigration-oriented pro bono cases at Hogan Lovells and works tirelessly to advocate for her clients.
