

Ramona Jehle

Senior Business Lawyer
Munich

Biography

Ramona Jehle advises national and international clients, including Fortune 500 and DAX 40 companies, on issues of white-collar crime and compliance.

Her work focuses on the organisation and conduct of internal investigations as well as the preparation of communication with authorities. She has specific expertise in the area of project management as well as in conducting interviews. She also has extensive experience in the supervision of dawn raids.

Ramona studied business and law in Erlangen and Nuremberg. Prior to her employment with Hogan Lovells, she worked for an international company in the sporting goods industry.

Representative experience

Advising various leading automotive companies on internal investigations and compliance topics, including dawn raid support.

Advising a leading media group on an internal investigation with regard to possible conflicts of interest and labour law compliance issues.

Support a medical device manufacturer during dawn raid by authorities regarding allegations of corruption.

Phone

+49 89 290 12 0

Fax

+49 89 290 12 222

Email

ramona.jehle@hoganlovells.com

Languages

German
English

Practices

Investigations, White Collar, and Fraud

Industries

Automotive
Life Sciences and Health Care
Technology and Telecoms

Areas of focus

Agency Investigations
Dawn Raids

Education and admissions

Education

Master of Laws, Nuremberg Tech - Technische Hochschule Nuremberg
Georg Simon Ohm, 2018

Bachelor of Laws, Friedrich-
Alexander University Erlangen-
Nürnberg, 2015
