

Stephanie López

Associate

Washington, D.C.

Biography

Stephanie López advises clients on a broad range of international trade and investment matters, including U.S. economic sanctions, export controls, immigration, and national security.

Stephanie is committed to helping clients navigate complex and constantly evolving regulatory landscapes and has experience representing clients before U.S. government agencies including the U.S. Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) and the U.S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS).

While in law school, Stephanie worked as a law clerk for Kids in Need of Defense (KIND) in New York City. She was also a member of the Berkeley Business Law Journal and participated in the Berkeley Law Workers' Rights Clinic. Stephanie graduated with a Certificate of Specialization in International Law.

Latest thinking and events

- Hogan Lovells Publications
 - OFAC issues general licenses authorizing certain transactions involving the government of Venezuela International Trade Alert
- Analysis
 - U.S. moves towards (but stops short of) complete

Phone

+1 202 637 4659

Fax

+1 202 637 5910

Email

stephanie.lopez@hoganlovells.com

Languages

English
Spanish

Practices

International Trade and Investment

Areas of focus

Anti-boycott Compliance
Anti-dumping and Countervailing
Duty Investigations
Anti-money Laundering
CFIUS and Foreign Investment
Reviews

embargo on Venezuela

- Hogan Lovells Publications
 - U.S. moves towards (but stops short of) complete embargo on Venezuela International Trade Alert

Export Controls

Sanctions

Education and admissions

Education

J.D., University of California, Berkeley School of Law, 2018

B.A., The University of Texas at El Paso, cum laude, 2014

Bar admissions and qualifications

District of Columbia
