

Magdalena Bakowska

Senior Associate

London

Biography

Magdalena Bakowska is a Senior Associate in the Global Products Law team at the Hogan Lovells London office. She advises in all aspects of the product lifecycle - from regulatory requirements at the product's launch to presentation, labelling, as well as product-related commercial and consumer law issues in a wide range of industry sectors, with a focus on life sciences, technology, consumer electronics and tobacco.

She coordinates advice for companies relating to new product launches in multiple jurisdictions, helping build global strategies and practical solutions for market leading brands.

Her experience also covers product safety, recalls and product liability litigation.

Latest thinking and events

- Hogan Lovells Publications
 - Brexit and REACH: What does it mean for products companies?
- Hogan Lovells Publications
 - A new era for product liability? The European Parliament to hold a committee to discuss
- Hogan Lovells Publications
 - International Products Law Review 2020: Issue 76

Phone

+44 20 7296 7667

Fax

+44 20 7296 2001

Email

magdalena.bakowska@hoganlovells.com

Languages

English
Polish
Spanish

Practices

Consumer Law
Health Law
Medical Device and Technology
Regulatory
Pharmaceuticals and Biotechnology Regulatory

Industries

Consumer

Life Sciences and Health Care

TMT

Areas of focus

Product Litigation

Education and admissions

Education

MA Law, University of Warsaw, 2009

Bar admissions and qualifications

Warsaw
