

Julia L. Diaz

Senior Associate
Washington, D.C.

Biography

Julia Diaz delivers practical solutions to complex international trade and investment legal challenges. She advises clients on a broad range of matters in the areas of export controls, economic sanctions, anti-boycott, import, corporate social responsibility, and trade remedy laws and regulations.

Julia assists clients with a variety of trade controls compliance issues, including submitting license applications and disclosures, and conducting trainings and on-site audits. Prior to joining the firm, Julia served as the junior attorney on the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) matters team in an independent monitorship of an international bank. She has represented both petitioners and respondents in anti-dumping and countervailing duty proceedings before the Department of Commerce and U.S. federal courts.

Julia brings a unique human rights perspective to her practice. Before law school, she worked overseas in several developing nations on community organization and primary health care initiatives. While in law school, she worked in the International Human Rights Law Clinic for a year, spent a summer in Tanzania clerking for the judges of the United Nations International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda, conducted independent research in Madagascar as a member of the Human
