Madrid

Biography

Prior to joining Hogan Lovells, Fátima worked in a major Spanish law firm and her practice was focused on resolving a broad range of disputes through litigation proceedings.

Consequently, she has experience in complex matters especially in the areas of civil and commercial litigation, banking disputes relating to financial products, and disputes between shareholders with regards to company resolutions, agency agreements, as well as others. She was also involved in corporate criminal law and provided legal advice to both Spanish and international clients in criminal investigations or Court proceedings, acting either as prosecuting party or defence. She worked in the development of Corporate Compliance Programs for companies in all sectors.

Fátima Mallén is a junior associate within the Insurance and Reinsurance Division of Hogan Lovells' Madrid Office. She focuses on insurance litigation, where she has particular experience in the defense of insurance and reinsurance companies in a wide range of matters such as professional liability claims, D&O and coverage disputes, as well as others. In addition, she focuses on tort law related to product liability claims, with a particular focus on the life sciences and health care sectors.
