Biography

Nick Griffin focuses his practice on general corporate and securities law matters, including mergers, acquisitions, public and private securities offerings, and public company reporting. The clients he represents range from early stage startups and their founders to established public reporting companies. His industry experience is focused on various aspects of the life science sector, including oncology therapies, pain products, dermatology therapies, vaccines, diagnostics, medical devices and drug/device combinations, orphan drugs, and gene therapies.

Nick has successfully negotiated and completed a range of transactions for companies in the life sciences and technology sectors, including initial public offerings (IPOs), follow-on equity offerings, at-the-market (ATM) offerings, registered debt offerings, private placements, and private investment in public equity (PIPE) deals.

In addition to his transactional work, Nick advises public and private companies and their boards on securities law, corporate governance matters, shareholder activism issues, and general corporate strategy.
