

Godfrey Yuen

Associate

Hong Kong

Biography

Godfrey is a keen and inquisitive problem solver who is not afraid to dive into the details when his clients face complex problems in the construction industry.

Godfrey uses his background knowledge in engineering to absorb complex technical matters and deliver advice in a clear and concise manner.

Godfrey advises employers, contractors and professionals on a variety of contentious and non-contentious matters in both England and Hong Kong. He studied Aerospace Engineering at the University of Sheffield, where lateral and 'out of the box' thinking were essential. It is a state of mind that Godfrey adapts to his everyday practice in the form of creative legal problem solving for his clients.
