

Dr. Lisa Hofmeister

Counsel
Dusseldorf

Biography

From day one in our firm, Lisa Hofmeister has been working on complex post-M&A disputes. Another major part of her work is cross-border cartel damages cases. When dealing with such cases Lisa's work goes well beyond preparing written statements of the case: it includes systematically assessing possible claims, gathering relevant factual information and dealing with the claims in a suitable procedure – be it out-of-court, by litigation, in arbitral proceedings or through alternative dispute resolution.

Following her passion for procedural questions and innovative ways of solving disputes Lisa wrote her doctoral thesis about modern versions of alternative dispute resolution proceedings. Having worked several months in a leading international law firm in London during her legal traineeship, having performed an internship in Brussels as a student, and having worked at a chair of civil law dealing with topics of European private law provide Lisa with a solid background for handling international disputes.
