

Felix Nehm

Projects Associate

Munich

Biography

Felix Nehm advises national and international companies, most of which are Fortune 500 and DAX 30 clients, on questions of corporate compliance as well as administrative and criminal aspects.

Felix supports clients on the set up and management of internal investigations. While doing so, Felix provides legal risk assessments and assists on data retention processes and data reviews. In addition, Felix has particular experience in advising on post-investigation civil litigation procedures.

Felix Nehm studied law at the Humboldt University of Berlin and at the Yeditepe University in Istanbul, Turkey. During his legal training (Referendariat) at the Higher Regional Court of Berlin, Felix worked, inter alia, at the Public Prosecutor's Office of Berlin and for international law firms in Berlin and New York.

Representative experience

Advising a globally acting pharmaceutical company on updating its dawn raid response processes and on implementing data retention processes in relation to a criminal investigation.

Advising a major company from the automotive industry on compliance topics and large scale internal investigations.

Phone

+49 89 290 12 0

Fax

+49 89 290 12 222

Email

felix.nehm@hoganlovells.com

Languages

German
English
Spanish

Practices

Investigations, White Collar, and Fraud

Industries

Automotive
Life Sciences and Health Care

Areas of focus

Advising a globally acting provider of automotive parts in conducting an internal investigation relating to allegations of bribery and money laundering.

Advising on post-investigation civil litigation procedures.

Product Compliance

Product Litigation

Agency Investigations

Postmarket Compliance and Enforcement Actions

Education and admissions

Education

Second State Exam in Law, Higher Regional Court of Berlin, 2018

First State Exam in Law, Humboldt University of Berlin, 2014
