Partner

Northern Virginia

Biography

Tim Lyden works with clients to protect their intellectual property rights. From advising on filing strategy for a single application to advising on acquisition of rights in 150 jurisdictions, Tim navigates filing and commercial processes to acquire, protect, develop, and commercialize clients' brands, including on the internet.

Tim develops and implements branding strategies, protecting brands through clearance, acquisition, monetizing, and enforcing rights. He also works with clients to enforce their brands against third parties, achieving commercial resolutions outside the litigation context when it meets clients' objectives. He also appears before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board in opposition and cancellation matters, in addition to appearing before domain name arbitration panels to enforce trademark and other rights in domain names.

Tim also works with clients to protect their other intellectual property rights through copyright and other mechanisms available to do so, working closely with colleagues in other practices and jurisdictions when warranted. In addition, Tim conducts due diligence on intellectual property assets and advises on IP issues in strategic transactions.

With nearly 20 years experience in trademark law, Tim
