

Hogan Lovells

California Consumer Privacy Act: What you need to know now

24 July 2018

Webinar

On June 28, 2018, California's governor signed Assembly Bill 375, a groundbreaking new data privacy law that some are calling the United States' answer to the European Union's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Particularly in light of California's status as the world's 5th largest economy, many are wondering how the new California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) will affect them.

Click the video below to watch our webinar on this topic.

Contacts

Mark W.
Brennan

Partner

Bret S.
Cohen

Partner

Harriet
Pearson

Senior Counsel

Tim P.
Tobin

Partner

> Read the full article online