

Christine A. Reynolds

Senior Associate
Washington, D.C.

Biography

Christine Reynolds understands that government contractors often face unexpected and novel legal challenges requiring prompt resolution.

Focusing her practice on bid protests at the federal, state, and local levels, Christine handles tough research questions and provides timely guidance to clients as she challenges and defends government contract awards in protests before agencies, the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO), and the U.S. Court of Federal Claims (COFC).

In addition to her bid protest work, Christine has experience in a wide range of other government contracting matters. She handles appeals of contracting officer final decisions to both the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals (ASBCA) and the Civilian Board of Contract Appeals (CBCA) and assists clients with resolution of issues arising during mediation, suspension, and debarment proceedings, internal investigations, and potential terminations.

Christine also helps clients navigate the complex web of federal and state procurement and nonprocurement statutes and regulations, providing practical guidance on best practices to ensure compliance. Additionally, Christine assists universities as they work through complicated issues related to allegations of research
