

Imogen Brooks

Associate

London

Biography

As part of our EU Regulatory and International Trade practice, Imogen Brooks advises clients on all aspects of EU Trade and Regulatory matters including sanctions compliance, export control, anti-money laundering, customs, trade compliance, trade remedies, and anti-corruption. She also advises international clients on CE marking compliance and the placement of products on the EU internal market.

Prior to joining the Trade Team at Hogan Lovells, Imogen was seconded for six months to the UK headquarters of a major U.S. healthcare company.

Latest thinking and events

- News
 - Blocking Regulation: The first step towards solving the conflict of laws between EU and US sanctions
- News
 - The UK's Department for International Trade publish export control enforcement data for 2021
- News
 - The EU broadens scope of sanctions on Belarus
- News
 - Afghanistan: OFSI issues updated charity sector guidance on additional sanctions and remittance
- News
 - The EU and UK adopt additional comprehensive sanctions on Belarus

Phone

+44 20 7296 2119

Fax

+44 20 7296 2001

Email

imogen.brooks@hoganlovells.com

Languages

English

Practices

Government Relations and Public Affairs

International Trade and Investment

Industries

Aerospace and Defense

Consumer

Financial Institutions

Life Sciences and Health Care

Areas of focus

- News
 - UK launches new Global Anti-Corruption sanctions regime

Anti-money Laundering
Bribery and Corruption
Customs and Import Compliance
Export Controls
Foreign Government Representation
Trade Legislation, Policy, and Negotiations

Education and admissions

Education

LL.B., London School of Economics and Political Science, 2015

Bar admissions and qualifications

Solicitor, England and Wales
