We blogged on 26 July 2018 about the government's plans to publish a register of beneficial ownership of UK registered land. The government proposes that the register will be maintained by Companies House and will show the owners and controllers of overseas entities that own registered land in the UK. It will catch all registered land interests (freehold and leases above seven years in England and Wales, 20 years in Scotland and 21 in Northern Ireland).
