

Janna Weimer

Associate

Munich

Biography

Janna Weimer advises inter alia on national and international commercial and distribution law as well as consumer protection law. She assists in the drafting of commercial contracts and general terms and conditions, for example in the areas of purchasing and sales, distribution and similar agreements. She also advises on related regulatory issues and corporate transactions.

Janna Weimer already gained practical and theoretical international experience during her university education. She has been with us since her time as a trainee lawyer and previously worked in another international law firm in Munich during her studies. During her legal clerkship, Janna Weimer attended negotiation workshops and completed her training as a business mediator (Munich model), which provides her with valuable background knowledge, especially for commercial negotiations.
