Who helps you

During the past three years, our global team has advised on more than US$250 billion of closed infrastructure deals. Our team works on the largest global projects.

We have the biggest dedicated global team with more than 100 years of experience. Many have worked in-house. We appreciate the commercial drivers. No team is better qualified to help you.

We are housed in one of the largest global law firms with leading supporting practitioners. We cover all angles.

Hogan Lovells the global change makers

You like to make global impact, frequently inventing the wheel. We do too. That's why we are increasingly asked to help bring global game-changer deals to market. Deals that will:

- Transform regional trade and hike national GDP
- Create transformational technology and new financing
