

Stephanie Wilcke, LL.M. (Griffith University Queensland)

Senior Associate
Dusseldorf

Biography

Stephanie Wilcke focuses on IP litigation and counselling in both national and international contexts. She has broad experience in dealing with patent, unfair competition and design disputes, the latter often regarding technical designs. In the area of design law, for example, she was deeply involved in the litigation of an extensive case before the German Federal High Court of Justice, which resulted in two judgements about fundamental questions for this area of law. Further, Stephanie advises on matters of trademark and copyright law. In both areas, she has experience in matters involving extensive litigation, extra-judicial negotiations and advice as to how to deal with the underlying issues from a business perspective.

Stephanie gained her understanding of clients' businesses not only in the course of her work for Hogan Lovells. She has also worked in the legal department of an internationally known and renowned corporation based in Dusseldorf for six months. There, she gained insight into the day-to-day concerns of such a corporation and how they can be addressed to make the most from a business perspective.

Stephanie has strong ties to Australia. She successfully
