

Switzerland: The next frontier for mandatory human rights due diligence?

01 December 2017

Hogan Lovells

Proposals are being considered to amend the Swiss constitution to require mandatory human rights due diligence for companies based in Switzerland. This post considers the contents of the amendment, its progress and what Swiss businesses can learn from the experience of their French counterparts in preparing for the “hardening” of the UN Guiding Principles.

Click here to view the full article.

> Read the full article online