

Patrick Hynds

Associate

Washington, D.C.

Biography

Patrick Hynds counsels clients on matters of international trade, investment, and national security. From trade controls to trade remedies, Patrick is able to provide the services clients need for any situation.

Patrick is dedicated to providing insightful work in a complex and ever-changing legal landscape. During law school, he built up valuable experience while interning at the Office of the Legal Adviser at the U.S. Department of State. He also gained an appreciation for the complexity of international matters while participating in the Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition. For representing his university in that competition, he was awarded the Judge Albert H. Grenadier Award for excellence in oral advocacy.

Law school was full of other opportunities as well. Patrick was awarded the Imogen Williford Constitutional Law Award for excellence in constitutional law. He also served as a notes editor of The George Washington Law Review.

Patrick maintains an active pro bono practice where he works on immigration matters, voting rights, and election reform.
