

Julian B. Flamant

Associate

Washington, D.C.

Biography

Julian Flamant works with clients to develop effective privacy and data protection compliance strategies. His practice is focused on helping clients anticipate and resolve the challenges of providing data-based services on multiple continents.

He regularly works closely with large multinational companies to facilitate implementation of local projects in compliance with wide-ranging privacy and cybersecurity rules.

Julian was previously the senior paralegal in our Privacy and Cybersecurity practice. He also worked on the General Data Protection Regulation's interservice consultation as a European Commission trainee. Julian was a policy fellow at the Future of Privacy Forum in Washington, D.C., where he led European engagement efforts.

While earning his master of laws in international relations, Julian prepared a dissertation exploring harmonization of data protection regulatory approaches between the United States and the European Union. While in law school, his team won the policy competition at one of the largest student-run cybersecurity events in the world held at New York University with a policy proposal for measuring consumer privacy harms.
