

Jenny Galloway

Associate

London

Biography

As an associate in the London Litigation Group, Jenny Galloway's practice focuses on financial services disputes, investigations and contentious regulatory matters, in addition to corporate and commercial litigation. Jenny acts for both domestic and international clients, including banks and multinational companies, and frequently advises on matters involving cross-border issues.

Jenny's experience encompasses a wide range of High Court litigation, regulatory investigations (both domestic and international) and pre-action disputes. She has also undertaken two secondments to the legal departments of two leading banks.

Representative experience

Successfully defending a UK bank in respect of claims regarding the alleged mis-selling of an interest rate hedging product.

Acting for a major UK bank in relation to a criminal investigation regarding alleged benchmark manipulation.

Acting for multinational companies in cross-border joint venture disputes.
