

James Hennelly

Senior Associate
Washington, D.C.

Biography

Jamie Hennelly advises clients facing complex civil litigation, as well as civil, criminal, and administrative investigations involving the federal government. He works closely with both public and private companies dealing with corporate crises and helps them wade through difficult legal questions.

Jamie has particular experience representing clients in the health care and life sciences industries, including with False Claims Act litigation and criminal investigations.

He has also represented clients involved with wide-ranging investigations and enforcement actions brought by the Department of Justice, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau. Jamie regularly assists clients in the food industry in criminal and other enforcement investigations involving the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

Prior to joining Hogan Lovells, Jamie was a regulatory health policy and reimbursement consultant for clients in the life sciences industry.

Phone

+1 202 637 3698

Fax

+1 202 637 5910

Email

james.hennelly@hoganlovells.com

Practices

Food Law

Health Law

Investigations, White Collar, and Fraud

Litigation Services

Pharmaceuticals and Biotechnology Regulatory

Securities and Public Company
Advisory

Industries

Consumer

Financial Institutions

Life Sciences and Health Care

Areas of focus

False Claims Act and Qui Tam

Education and admissions

Education

J.D., American University
Washington College of Law, cum laude, 2013

B.A., Washington University in St.
Louis, with honors, 2010

Bar admissions and qualifications

District of Columbia

Missouri

Court admissions

U.S. Supreme Court
