

Tyler Blake

Associate

Washington, D.C.

Biography

Tyler Blake helps clients navigate the complex and high-stakes world of government and internal investigations.

Tyler is experienced in handling subpoena responses, whistleblower investigations, and other complex legal disputes. Tyler is also a dedicated member of Hogan Lovells' Pro Bono practice, having worked extensively on issues related to criminal justice reform, immigration and family detention, and tenants' rights.

Tyler received his J.D. from Washington University in St. Louis School of Law, where he graduated magna cum laude and served as Chief Commentaries Editor for the Washington University Law Review.

Latest thinking and events

- Hogan Lovells Publications
 - Air cargo defendant extradited to stand trial
Antitrust and Competition Alert

Phone

+1 202 637 2749

Fax

+1 202 637 5910

Email

tyler.blake@hoganlovells.com

Practices

Investigations, White Collar, and Fraud

Education and admissions

Education

J.D., Washington University in St. Louis, magna cum laude, 2017

B.A., Vassar College, 2012

Memberships

Member, American Bar Association

Bar admissions and qualifications

District of Columbia

California
