

Hotels and Leisure

The booming hotels and leisure industry has never been more global. Or complex.

The booming hotels and leisure industry has never been more global. Or complex.

During the last 30 years, the global hotels and leisure lawyers at Hogan Lovells have built a reputation as being one of the industry's major legal advisors. We truly enjoy what we do.

We act for leading hotel investors, developers, financiers, and operators worldwide. And we have worked on transactions in more than 40 countries involving nearly every major hotel chain.

This means we have gained deep insight into the issues that you are likely to encounter in any deal. From management agreements to hotel portfolio sales and purchases, to new developments and financings. We help you get the deal done.

Representative experience

LFF on the structuring and acquisition of a hotel portfolio across Europe.

Ivanhoe Cambridge on the disposal of 18 hotels across Europe to Apollo European Principal Finance Fund II, L.P.

The Leopard Group and Fattal Hotels on the sale and leaseback of a Pan-European portfolio of 18 hotels to Swedish investor Pandox for a total consideration of

Contacts

Marc P. Werner, LL.M. (Miami),
Frankfurt

Jackie Newstead,
London

Practices

Real Estate

Industries

Real Estate

Consumer

€400m.

Alcion Ventures/Bald Mountain Development in the venture and management structuring for the Four Seasons Resort in Calistoga, Napa Valley California.

Latest thinking and events

News

UK company voluntary arrangements: 10 key takeaways for property owners from government research

News

UK Planning top tips: certificates of lawfulness

News

UK Supreme Court provides welcome clarity on the operation of the Telecoms Code

News

National Security and Investment Act: first Annual Report published

News

UK's Vertical Agreement Block Exemption Order goes live - heralding a new age of vertical divergence?

News

The digital future: UK land transactions and the metaverse