

Mark T. Reeves

Attorney

Miami

Biography

Throughout his career, Mark Reeves has focused his practice on project development throughout the United States, the Caribbean, and Latin America. Whether developing transportation facilities, renewable energy facilities, industrial facilities, sports facilities, hotel/casino projects, colleges and universities or mixed-use projects, Mark's goal is always to get the project built and avoid disputes.

He is a licensed architect in the state of Florida and he serves as an adjunct professor at the University of Miami School of Architecture where he teaches a course on project development and construction law for architects.

Prior to joining the firm, he served as general counsel to a major Florida university where he was also responsible for real estate development. Earlier in his career, Mark served as chair of the construction law practice group at a prominent law firm previously headquartered in Florida.
