

Christine M. Pallares

Partner
New York

Biography

Christine Pallares counsels clients through complex transactions, with a focus on mergers and acquisitions and capital-raising activities. With more than 25 years of transactional experience across many practice areas, Christine uses her broad background and depth of knowledge to assist clients in structuring, negotiating, and executing complex corporate transactions. She represents companies in a number of industries, particularly health care and life sciences, real estate, and energy and renewables.

Christine is experienced with a broad range of complex M&A transactions, including public and private acquisitions, cross-border transactions, private equity investments, joint ventures and other strategic alliances, and spin-offs. She represents both start-ups and public companies in all types of capital-raising transactions, including private placements, initial public offerings, registered debt and equity offerings, high-yield debt offerings, Rule 144A and Regulation S offerings, and bank financings.

Christine also regularly advises public companies and their boards on corporate governance matters, U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission compliance and reporting, and stock exchange listing standards.

Prior to joining Hogan Lovells, Christine was a partner
