

Erin J. Howell

Senior Associate

New York

Biography

Erin Howell knows that a valuable adviser needs both breadth and depth of knowledge. That's her key to advising clients across a broad range of industries on their most important corporate transactions, while maintaining a particular focus on key industries. From life sciences to life insurance, Erin has counseled clients on a variety of business, corporate, and regulatory matters.

Erin focuses on U.S. and international mergers and acquisitions, internal reorganizations, and asset purchase and sale transactions – including pharmaceutical products and blocks of insurance business. Erin has represented clients in industries as varied as financial services, pharmaceuticals and life sciences, textiles, transportation, and health services. Within the insurance industry, she brings a decade of experience dealing with complex reinsurance, transactional, and regulatory matters, including M&A, renewal rights, shell acquisitions, and regulatory issues for insurance underwriters, producers, and reinsurers.
