

A guide to the new regime for competition claims in the UK

September 2015

The Consumer Right Act comes into force on 1 October 2015, this guide explains the new competition regime and the implications it will have for competition litigation claims in the UK.

> Read the full article online