

Naveen Rao

Counsel on the Subcommittee on Aviation
U.S. House of Representatives

Naveen was named Counsel on the Subcommittee on Aviation in September 2014. Prior to this appointment, he was in private legal practice at Squire Patton Boggs, Jones Day and served as vice president and general counsel of Naverus Inc. Naveen began his career at the U.S. Department of Transportation where he was an attorney in the FAA's Office of the Chief Counsel and was counselor to the Assistant Secretary of Transportation for Aviation & International Affairs. While at the FAA, he was seconded for one year to the Japan Civil Aviation Bureau, All Nippon Airways, and the Japan Fair Trade Commission.

He graduated from the University of Louisville and the University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law and Eller College of Management. Naveen is a member of the Maryland Bar and District of Columbia Bar. He is a private pilot (single-engine, land).