Venue: Hogan Lovells US LLP, 875 Third Avenue, New York, NY

Event description

Young professionals in all industries all over the world frequently reflect on how to advance and develop their careers. Diverse young professionals in particular, may face additional challenges. Within the arbitration community, progress certainly has been made in terms of the number of diverse candidates serving as arbitrators, attaining the top positions in-house, and being successful rainmakers in their law firms. But more remains to be done. Join us for an open and positive dialogue at the Triple Colloquium of ICC YAF/ ICDR Y&I and Young ICSID with attorneys across various industries, about how to anticipate, control and direct the elements that will give rise to your success, and how to deal with unexpected developments that may impact your career. Topics will include finding the right workplace; deciding when and why to switch jobs; considerations when planning for a family; and being recognized in your legal community for your potential and accomplishments.
